PRESENTED BY THE STUDENTS OF
NORFOLK ACADEMY

A PLACE OF LASTING FRIENDSHIPS,

LOYAL COMRADES WE HAVE MET,

WHATEVER MAY BEFALL US,

BE SURE OF THIS,

WE'LL NOT FORGET.

FOREWORD

During the past several years and especially the one just past, we have perceived an imperceptible but growing improvement in the life of the Academy. Such an intangible is easier to allude to than to pin down. Yet we know it is there, we are proud of it, and we are confident that this is just as it should be.

We do not intend to imply that we have reached nirvana, but it is evident that the student body has attained a truer sense of where they are heading and how to go about it. Of course, there is always the homework, there is always Monday morning, and there is always the old desire to abolish both forever and always. Happily these irritations have not beclouded the fact that our enlarging numbers become more closely knit each year and the sense of unity of purpose between boys and masters steadily strengthens.

Each boy, with a fine sense of futurity, feels that he is contributing to a school that he can look upon with affection and respect in later times. There is burgeoning support for Academy teams and a real progression of interest in the many other activities, among them the Glee Club, the Monogram Club, and the Science Club. We trust that this kind of interest will continue to thrive and widen in scope, an ever-richening and ever-deepening current.

To this growth of spirit, individual and collective, we in the senior class hope we have contributed our best. We know that those who follow will, proudly and humbly, likewise give of their best to keep the stream of Academy life flowing deep and true.

DEDICATION

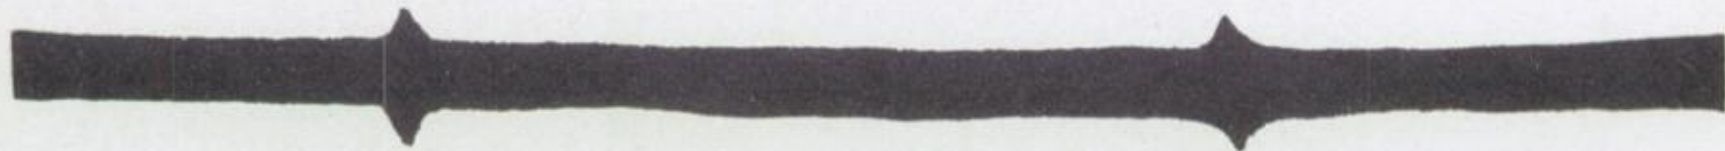

Mrs. Sidney L. R. Wigg

For her genuine devotion to the boys of the Academy, the graduating class gratefully dedicates the 1953 Orange and White to Mrs. Sidney L. R. Wigg.

Class History

We members of this year's Form Six have felt, at times, as though we have been fighting a battle to get loose from a trap, somewhat in the same way the Marines escaped from the trap at Changjin in Korea, since every month or so, a candidate for graduation has fallen by the wayside. Those of us who have survived, however, are proud still to be here, as we feel that our diplomas represent good solid endurance.

When the Academy reopened in 1946, only two members of our class, Frank Jacobs and Charles Cooper, were with us. However, cagey Bob Wheeler looked over the unit for six months before coming back a few years later. Will they ever forget the tirades of "Big Tuck" against our obdurate teachers like Mr. Weston? This was the year that our class wit (?) Charlie Cooper was gathering material for his humorous essays.

In 1947 the casualty list carried six names, reducing our outfit from twenty-eight to twenty-two, but we had gained the personages of George Grinnan and Frank Moore. This was the year that we finally made the J.V.'s and finally won our first game against the unbeatable Ocean View Blue Jackets. Who can forget the agony of those school sessions with the "JAW" whenever somebody accidentally smashed a window or a skull?

By 1948 a surprise attack had minimized our effective forces to sixteen but the demon of the backboards, Bob Shelly, graced us with his presence. This was the year that our all-mighty football team ventured over the bay to Cape Charles, with fifth-string halfback Cooper and first string water-boy Grinnan, only to be taken aback by a highly spirited Cape Charles team. This was the year that we had the lowest effort rating in the school, blotting the previously unscarred record of Mr. Krol.

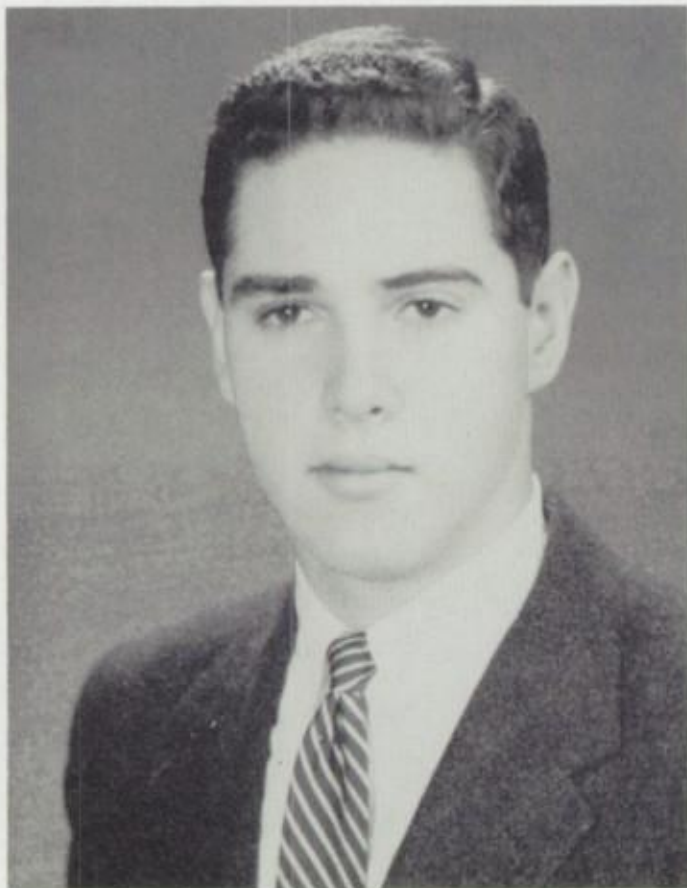

Anno domini 1949 was the year of the big push of "big time" football and basketball. Although we were but mere freshmen at the time, such stalwarts as Bob Shelly, George Grinnan, and Charles Cooper managed to grab their monograms along with the "stars."

In 1950 we were back on the offensive again when we made an all-out effort and won the free day off from school in the field day. Who would dare forget that lovely Hawaiian belle, Ted Baker, doing the hula in that grass skirt? This was the year that we all learned that Mr. Drew meant business when he asked us to write sentences a thousand times.

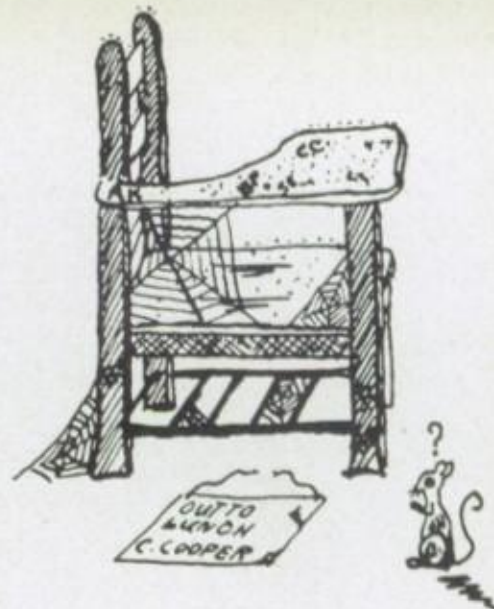

By 1951 the academic artillery opened up on us a barrage which left ten combatants only. This was the year that the class genius joined our alliance. Robert Wheeler soon proved to be a cog in the set-up of our platoon. This was the year of hilarity, as we soon proved to be unquestionable kings of the detention squad.

The year 1952 proved to be one of sobriety. Only seven were left. This was the year that Bob Hanckel joined us. Who will ever forget kindly Mr. Stirling's smiling face as he gave us those Monday morning trig tests? The last roadblock put in our way was dreamed up by that ingenious Communist, "Red" Massey. Themes, term papers and public talks were the order of the day, but we have finally surmounted the obstacles and are stumbling wearily into the haven of Hungnam.

Whenever we, in our old age, remember the days of our battles at the dear Academy, we will always fondly wish that we were back there again, doing our best to counter-attack against the teachers and outflank the administration.

CHARLES NEILSON COOPER

Charles is the Sixth Form wit; where there's humor — there's Charley, always his smiling satirical self. He's the one who enlivens arduous stretches of study hall with off-the-cuff remarks, and lightens heavy class sessions of Pope and Swift with his own inimitable kind of satire.

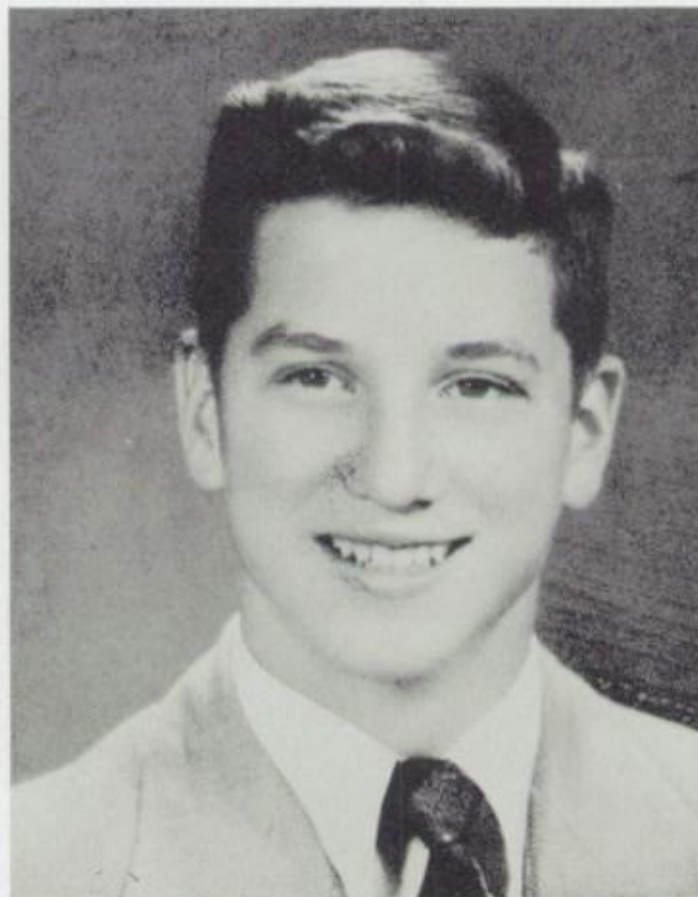

Not only does Charley have a humorous side, but also he has a more serious side. Though he has been side-lined by injury and sickness in many of the Academy's football seasons, he has done more than any other one student to keep up the spirits of the teams and the school throughout the year. He will be remembered for his pep rallies before games and his cheerleading at them. On the academic side, Charley's forte lies in writing, as evidenced by his two-year role in preparing the Orange and White.

Charles plans to go on to W & L and a law career. We hope that he continues the tradition of humor and friendliness which he has been known for here.

Play ball — The whistle blows and George Grinnan is there. George has been a member of all three varsity teams and was a co-captain of the football team this past season. Although George stands only 5'9" tall he is a standout in athletics. He has held an office in nearly every organization in the school and at present is president of the Monogram Club.

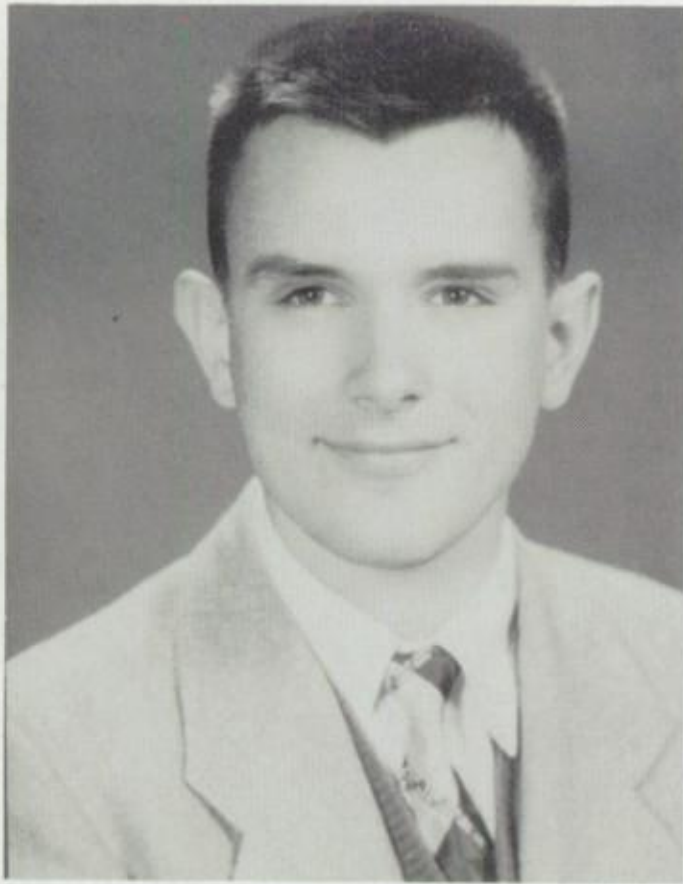

George is one of the most likeable boys you could meet. He is always willing to lend a helping hand to someone, even if it is a practical joke on them. A lot of jokes have been played on George lately, too. He has had a total of eight birthdays this year.

Although he is not yet in college, he is working hard on his M.A. Isn't that right, George? He cares little for books but we all hope that his interests will turn to knowledge in the near future, as he intends to be a doctor.

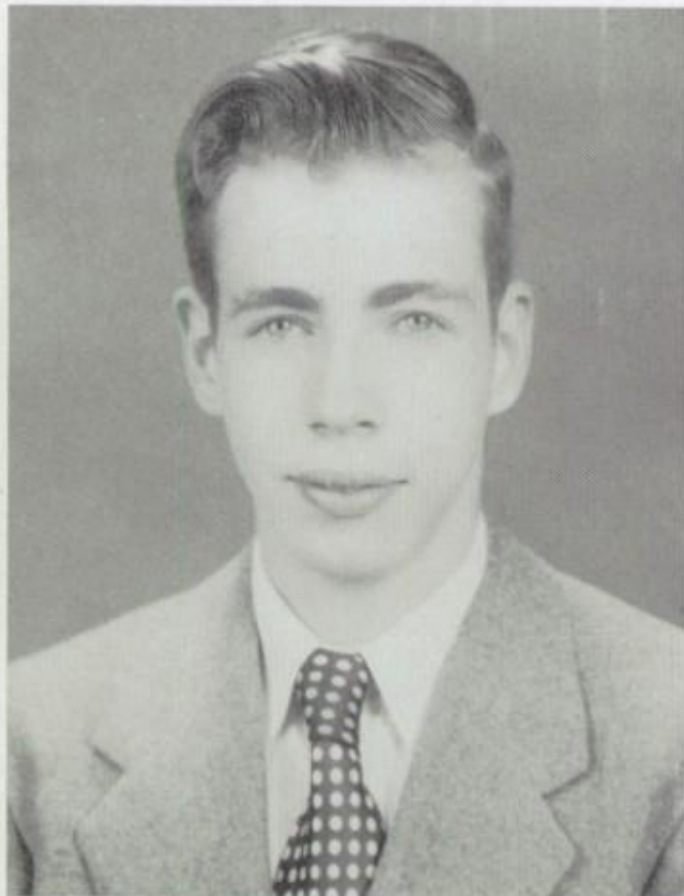

GEORGE LAMB BUIST GRINNAN

ROBERT CLOWER HANCKEL

Frank Jacobs came to the Academy the first year that it opened, and has been here ever since. "Big Jake" as he is known to his friends, has developed over the years into an excellent athlete, as well as a good student. He plays tackle on the football team, basketball guard, and catcher on the baseball team. In addition to these accomplishments, he has as his hobby, horseback riding and is an excellent horseman. Upon graduation, he is planning to go to the University of Virginia and there to become a very successful lawyer.

FRANK STANLEY MOORE

When the bell tolls at Norfolk Academy, we don't know whether it tolls for thee or not, but we do know that Bobby is at the other end of the bell rope — and that you can set your watch by his tolling. And Bobby is as faithful as he is punctilious; he is always willing to take on an assignment and carry it out to completion, or cheerfully ready to do anyone a favor. Being notoriously good-natured, he is often at the receiving end of a practical joke, but he has never been known to take real offense. Bobby can, however, be credited with a little spoofing on his own account. Thinking to catch him napping one day in class, Mr. Mac asked him the name of Shakespeare's wife; without batting an eyelash, Bobby shot back, "Marie Antoinette." We predict, that whatever Bobby's future course, he is destined to live on the sunny side of life's street and spread happiness around him.

FRANK ALLEN JACOBS

If there is any thing you want to know about airplanes, Frank will always be able to tell you.

If there is any thing you want to know about right guard on the football team, or how to run the mile as they do in track, Frank will be able to tell you.

If there is any thing you want to know about physics, history, trigonometry, solid geometry or English, Frank will be able to tell you.

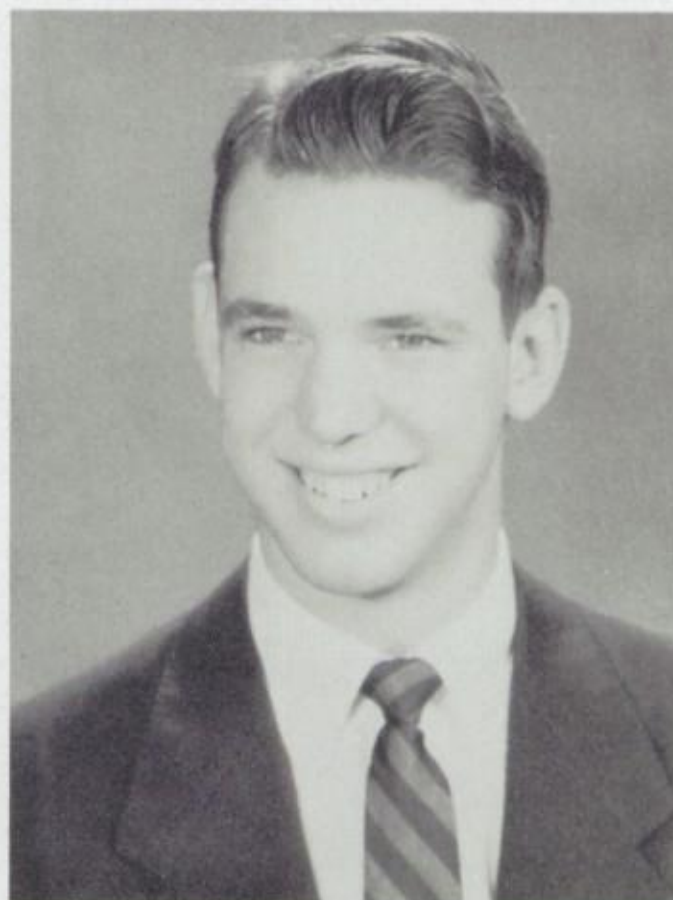

In fact, if there is anything you want to know, Frank will be able to tell you.

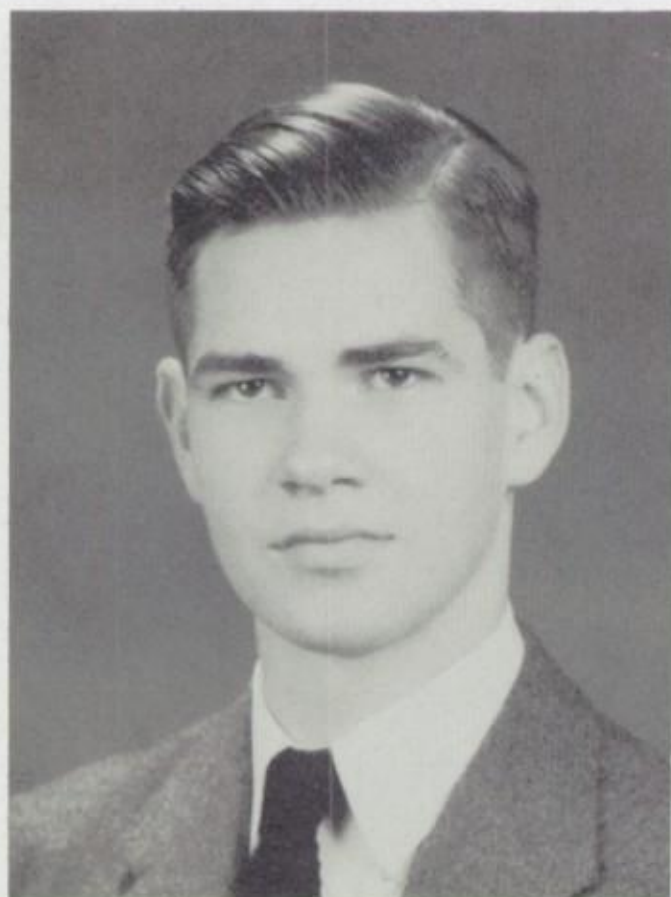

Robert Gardiner Shelly is "Bob" to everybody. President of the student body, his warmth, friendliness and cheerfulness bubble over and percolate down through the whole school. When Bob is serious about something, he really goes all the way, seeing whatever he undertakes out to the end; but when he relaxes, he really relaxes—with his feet stretched out into the next county. Somehow Bob's always on the ball, though, and can answer a question in class even when apparently asleep. No lover of dry and dusty scholarship, Bob is an authority on the classics of modern jazz and a versatile performer on a number of instruments.

Bob's plans for the future are not yet crystallized, but without question, wherever he goes, he will be surrounded by harmony.

ROBERT GARDINER SHELLY

ROBERT CLEWS WHEELER, JR.

The term, "one of the fellows", was never more aptly used than when applied to describe "Rob" Wheeler. There isn't a joke or a serious discussion in which he doesn't take a more than active part. The mystery of the caved-in Sixth Form door perhaps best illustrates this point. He is a well-rounded personality who is at every party, but who somehow always manages to get straight 90's on his grades. Rumor has it that he has six writers up in his room preparing his voluminous homework papers for him twenty-four hours a day. Seriously, Rob is the "brain" of the class and is making excellent grades consistently. Rob has had time this year to play football, basketball, and to sing in the Glee Club and undertake the responsibilities of being Vice-President of the student body. He is always ready to supply a shoulder to cry on, and a big hearty laugh to pep up any of his classmates who have met in disappointment with the opposite sex. Rob's going on next year to fields of wider endeavor, and we know that he'll be a sparkplug for any group he finds himself in.

CLASS PROPHECY

On my last yearly trip back to the states, I was fortunate enough to run into Bob Shelly, who was the new headmaster of the Johnsonian Institute (the new name of the Norfolk Academy). Bob is running the school on the principle that a well-rounded boy is a good boy, and, therefore, makes each boy play with a round basketball seven bells a day.

We both talked about Bob Hanckel and the Nobel Prize in electronics he had just been awarded the day before. It seems as though Hank got tired of taking of the attendance slips and perfected an electronic robot to do the work for him.

George Grinnan was still working on his Doctor's degree. He had already attained at thirty-five years old, his MA, but was still griping. It was revealed that his mother was persisting in keeping him in on the weekends when he didn't get a good grade.

Frank Jacobs has become the most famous of us. It seems that Mr. Mac got tired of his crummy themes and told him to go to "England on a hot day in December." Jake went, and is now the Poet Laureate of England.

Bob Wheeler had intended to study medicine but his patriotism got the best of him. Bob Shelly told me that he read of him in the newspaper just the other day. It seems that Bob decided to combine his career with Korea and became the first pilot to perform an appendectomy in a jet plane going six thousand miles an hour.

Frank Moore was the disgrace of the whole class. It seems that on one of his many lecture tours, Frank described what would happen if Russia dared attack us. Unfortunately, a Communist agent was sitting in the audience, who forwarded the information to Russia. Russia attacked and Frank is now in Sing Sing.

By the way, I'm living in Russia now. I got tired of hearing about the great satirists Pope and Swift and moved to a place where I could become a literary dictator too. From now on, you will kindly refer to the ages, as, "the Ages of Pope, Johnson, and Cooper."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Charles Cooper, leave my pep rallies to any fifth former who is man enough to get a sore throat.

I, Frank Moore, leave Mister Stirling's math courses to the other unfortunates who must take them.

I, George Grinnan, leave my apple polishing seat in front of Mr. MacConochie's desk, to any boy in the fifth form who is flunking so badly that he needs it.

I, Robert Wheeler, leave my pair of clean white bucks to John Ryan; may he ever keep up the good tradition and polish them every night.

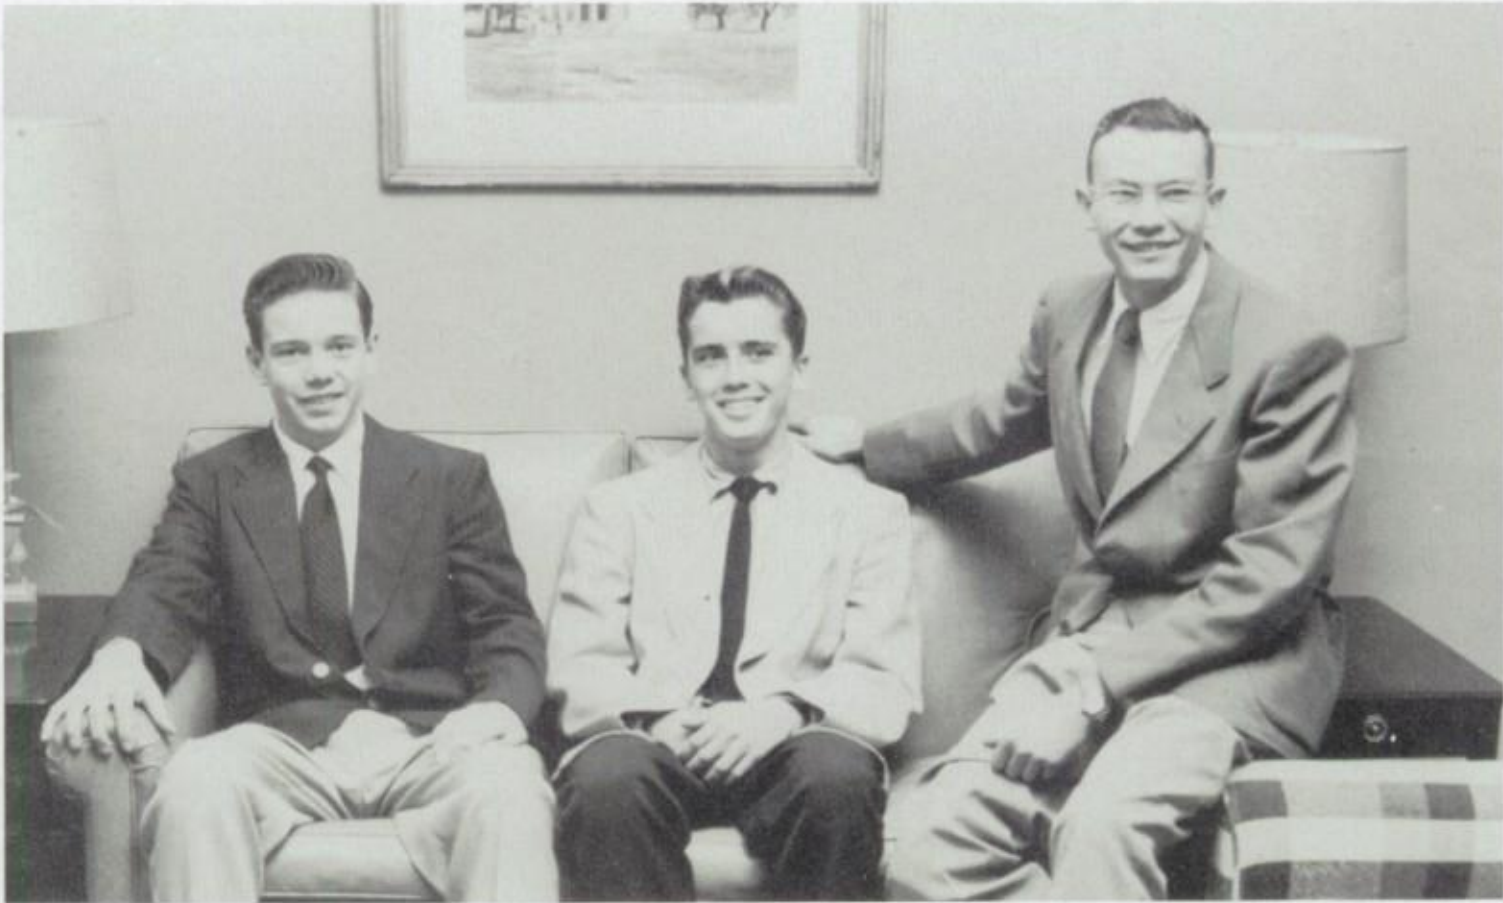

I, Frank Allen Jacobs, leave to any boy in the fifth form my wordiness in answering questions, so that he may continue to frustrate the masters, especially Mr. Sperry.

I, Robert Shelly, just found out that I flunked, and am not leaving after all.

I, Robert Clower Hanckel, hereby leave to any boy in the fifth form a pair of thick-soled shoes in which to collect attendance slips.

LOWER SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The boys in the Lower School have many varying activities.

We begin our school day with chapel in the school lunchroom. A student reads a selection from the Bible, after which we sing songs.

Early in the school term we elect class officers: a president, vice president, and secretary for each form. These officers are elected by popular vote.

The boys of the Lower School have Glee club on Monday and Wednesday after lunch. Mrs. Vogan is our director.

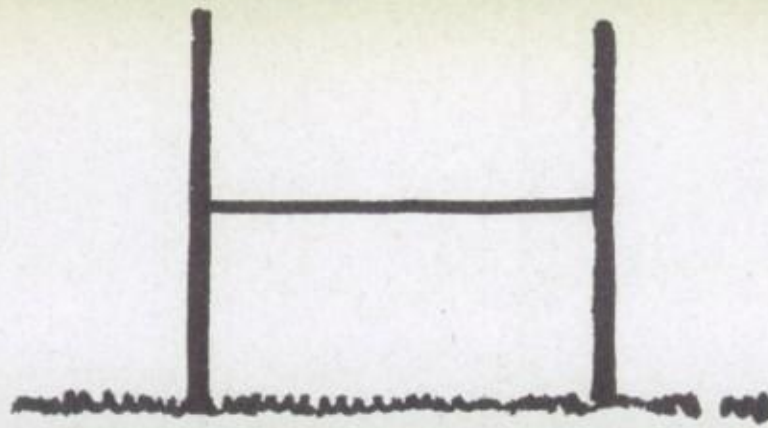

This year the glee club took part in the Christmas Carol Service on Sunday December 14. Each boy wore a surplice into the Gymnasium which was beautifully lit by two hundred candles. This service was enjoyed very much by our parents and friends.

A picnic in June to Virginia Beach is always looked forward to by the boys of the Lower School.

The Monogram Club came to its first meeting in the fall nine people strong. There was a considerable amount in the treasury and a good team of officers. George Grinnan was president, Bob Wheeler vice-president, and Bob Shelly treasurer. An active program of selling crackers during "snack" and drinks during the varsity games was undertaken with "Coop" and his goats helping out. After football season the club was bolstered with twelve new members.

During the Christmas holidays the boys decided to give a dance and committees were set up. All of the preparations were made: decorations were bought, the band hired, and the food purchased. On the day of the dance the boys worked feverishly and the decorating was completed less than two hours before festivities were to begin. All in all, it was generally conceded that it was one of the best dances ever given at the Academy.

While the club looks forward to further social events, the immediate project is to procure a loud-speaker system for the school. The proceeds from the cracker and drink stands are bringing in a goodly sum. With elections coming up in the next week or so, as this book goes to press, things look more than rosy for the future.

THE SPIRIT COMMITTEE

The "Spirit Committee" is a unique organization on the N. A. campus. It was proposed last Spring by the members of the '52 graduating class.

Since, in past years, the enthusiasm for the athletic teams and the other school activities was sometimes misdirected, and, at times, even missing, it was deemed necessary to have a group which would promote spirit and take charge of all the events centered around athletics.

Taking all of this into consideration, last year's junior class chose three boys—Charles Cooper, George Grinnan, and Bob Shelly—to be this year's committee. The Committee's presence this year has already been felt. Pep rallies, "Beat-the-Enemy" signs and enthusiasm for the School's teams are the word of the day. If next year's Spirit Committee continues the tradition, who knows? We might even have girl cheerleaders again.

In their first game, the Bulldogs were host to a spirited Virginia Beach eleven, and played them to a 0-0 tie in a steady rain. Dick Stobbs played an outstanding game for the Academy and shot a forty-yard pass to Ben Turnbull in the third quarter, which nearly went for a touchdown. Four more times the Bulldogs penetrated to Virginia Beach's twenty-yard line, but could not manufacture a touchdown. Both teams were hampered by a slippery pigskin which slowed down their offense greatly.

In the second game the Bulldogs were host to the Kempsville J.V.'s, and it was a different story. The Bulldogs rolled over the Kempsville J.V.'s 28-6 and racked up their first win of the season. In the first period, Price plunged over from the four for a touchdown which had been set up by a forty-yard pass from Stobbs to Turnbull. In the third quarter Stobbs drove for the Bulldog's second score after Kempsville had fumbled on their own twenty. Kempsville tallied early in the fourth quarter but the Bulldogs came back strongly and scored two more touchdowns, one of them a pass from Grinnan to Turnbull, and the other a thirty-yard run by Grinnan.

Out for their second win of the season, the Bulldogs journeyed to Barry Robinson but were defeated by a powerful Barry Robinson eleven, 12-0, after a hard-fought contest. On the opening kickoff, Barry Robinson took the ball and marched from their own thirty-eight for a touchdown. The rest of the half was scoreless, although the Bulldogs drove to their opponents nineteen. Then Barry's line stiffened and they took over the ball to retain their 6-0 lead. In the third quarter, the Bulldogs again began to roll and were on the brink of their first T.D. when Hutchison again shattered the hopes of the Academy rooters by intercepting a Bulldog pass on his own twenty and running it back for a touchdown. Although the Bulldogs, led by Cheski, battled valiantly, the Barry's held them off and handed them their first loss of the season.

Seeking to better their record of one win, one loss, and one tie, the Bulldogs journeyed to Saluda to take on a good Christ Church eleven, but lost 26-13. Until the last minutes of play in the first half there was no score, while the Bulldogs, down on their own twenty-yard line, fought desperately to hold off the boys from Christ Church. On the last play of the half, Christ Church scored on a twenty-yard pass. After the half, Christ Church took over where they had left off in the first half and piled up a 20-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. In the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs caught fire when Ackiss intercepted a pass on his opponents' thirty-five and ran it all the way for a touchdown. The Bulldogs then took the ball on their own seven and marched ninety-three yards with Cheski going over for a TD. Christ Church tallied six points in the fourth period. This the Academy nearly got back when Price raced through the Christ Church line to score, only to be called back. Christ Church barely came out on top though staving off a last quarter rally by the Bulldogs.

In their final appearance of the season, the Bulldogs took on a greatly improved Virginia Beach team in the Beach Bowl game at Oceana stadium and lost in a hard-fought contest 26-0. The entire first half was scoreless with both teams threatening but not able to hit pay-dirt. In the second half, Virginia Beach began to roll and, although John Ryan and Frank Jacobs played an outstanding defensive game, tallied four to walk off the field victors in the first annual Beach Bowl. George Grinnan, Doug Cheski, Beau Price, and Dick Stobbs made long gains but an alert Virginia Beach secondary balked the Academy's drives by intercepting many passes.

"B" SQUAD FOOTBALL - 1952

This fall the Jayvee football team was handled in a way different from previous years. Instead of practicing together in one body, the players were divided into two teams, the Rams and the Browns. Jim Carney was elected captain of the Rams, and Chuck Dean was chosen to head the Browns. A see-saw series rocked along without either team ever gaining more than a one-game margin over the other.

The only game against outside opposition was scheduled with Wright School. It was decided that the Jayvees would play as two separate units, the Rams and the Browns. The Jayvees were a little awed at the size of their opponents, and gave considerable ground to the larger Wright eleven in the first half. The halftime score was twenty-one to nothing. In the second half they stopped waiting cautiously for the Wright backs and began to charge much harder. Midway in the third quarter, Wright picked up a fourth touchdown. The Jayvees stormed back with their lone tally on a Dean-to-Lankford pass.

The Browns and the Rams once more resumed their series. The final game was to be for the championship, and the Browns won it, 26-7. This ended a highly satisfactory season.

With only three lettermen returning it seemed that the Academy quintet would find it rough going in 1952-1953. Prospects for the season became brighter when we learned that Mr. Emerson Johnson, leading collegiate scorer in the state last season, would be our coach.

Opening the season with an always tough Norview five, the Academy fell to defeat, 48-34, but Dick Stobbs tallied 16 for the losers.

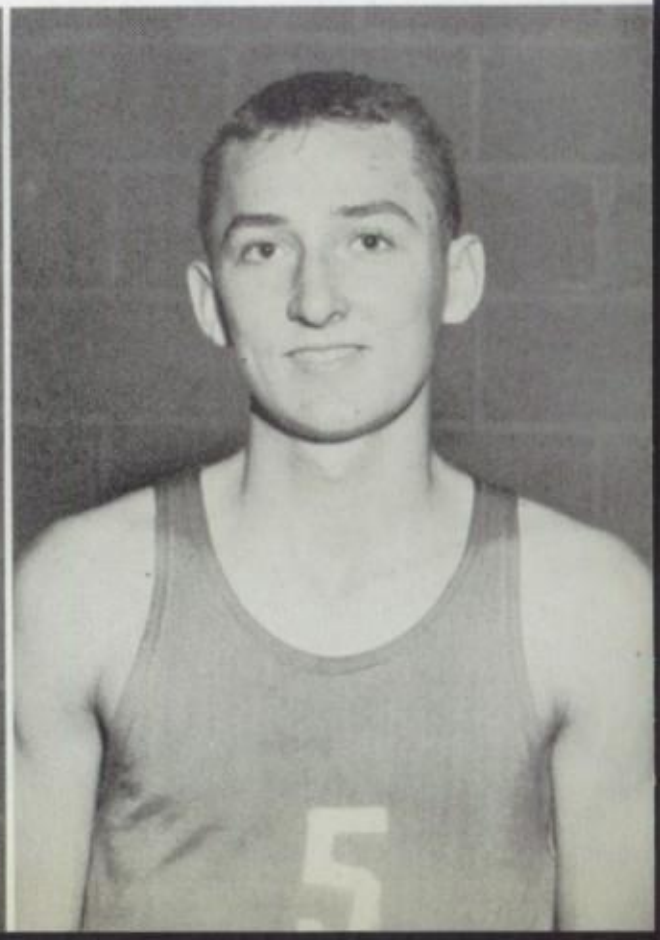

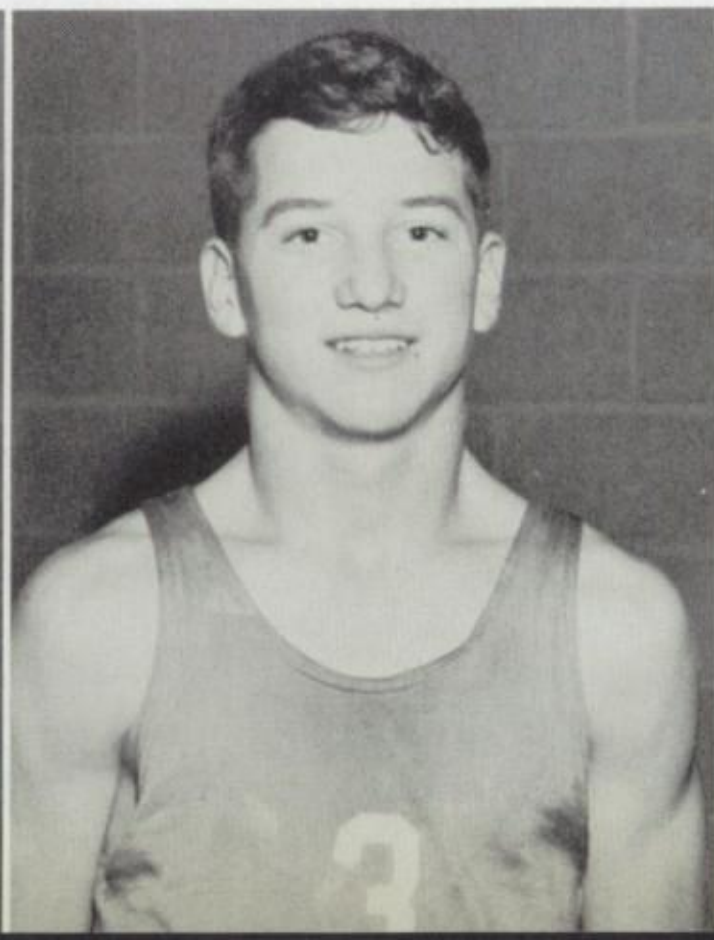

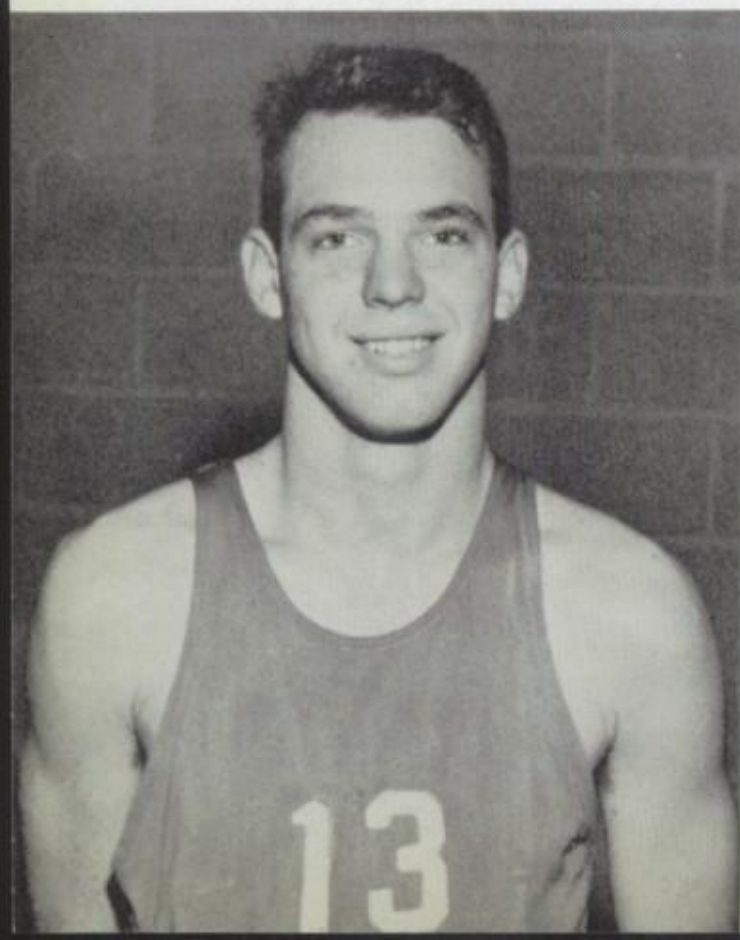

In the next contest, the Academy broke into the win column, downing Barry-Robinson, 46-25; Co-Captains Dick Stobbs and Bob Shelly led the way with 20 and 10 points, respectively.

Oceana was defeated by the Academy next, 52-33. Stobbs and Shelly again led the scoring with 18 and 15. Dick Towell played his always outstanding defensive game.

Churchland visited the Academy and outclassed them, 60-41. Bob Shelly led all scoring with 17, and Dick Stobbs followed with 12 points.

After the Christmas recess, the Bulldogs again defeated Oceana, 53-33, behind Stobbs, Shelly, Grinnan and Brown with 16, 13, 9, and 9 points respectively. The Academy jumped to an early lead in the first quarter 14-8, and the zone defense so baffled Oceana that they did not score the entire second period.

The Bulldogs then jumped out of their class to play the Norfolk Southern Railway in the Men's City League. The Academy was downed, 47-37. Shelly, Stobbs and Grinnan scored 11, 10, and 8, for the losers.

The Rebels, in the City League became the next victims of the Academy. Mr. Johnson played the second string most of the game, winning by 53-44. Stobbs and Shelly paced the way with 19 and 11 points. Lou Einwick played a fine game for the Bulldog five.

The team has progressed rapidly this year and has gained in confidence and ability. The boys have shown a great deal of teamwork and have a lot of spirit. A weekend trip has been planned to Richmond, for a game with Christchurch and to Alexandria, for a game with St. Stephen's.

Next season the team will miss the services of George Grinnan, a great team and floor man, and Co-Captain Bob Shelly a rebound specialist. These two lads are expected to graduate in June.

Next year the team will probably enjoy the services of three of this year's first-string men. Dick Towell, Arch Brown, and Co-Captain Dick Stobbs will be returning. The team has great prospects for the future years, as Towell and Stobbs are sophomores and Brown is a Freshman. A great deal of credit should be given to the substitutes this year. They have been of invaluable service to the team. Good luck for the rest of the season, team.

THE COACHES

Mr. Sperry

Mr. Garnett is in his first year as athletic director. Previously he has been the line coach for varsity football, head coach for "J.V." football, and head coach for varsity baseball. He has done very well this year in scheduling all of our teams with other schools of comparatively the same athletic strength.

Mr. Sperry is another newcomer as far as his present position is concerned. Last year he coached the all-star team of the lower school. This year, with only one or two lettermen returning on the squad, he succeeded in turning out a highly competitive team. The spirit was tops and the team had a respectable record.

Mr. Cumisky, Mr. Garnett

Mr. Johnson came to us this fall from Hampden-Sydney College where he was the top college basketball scorer in the state. He has continued in the Academy tradition of turning out winning basketball teams. He has won the deep admiration and respect of the boys, and they do their utmost to give him their best on the basketball court.

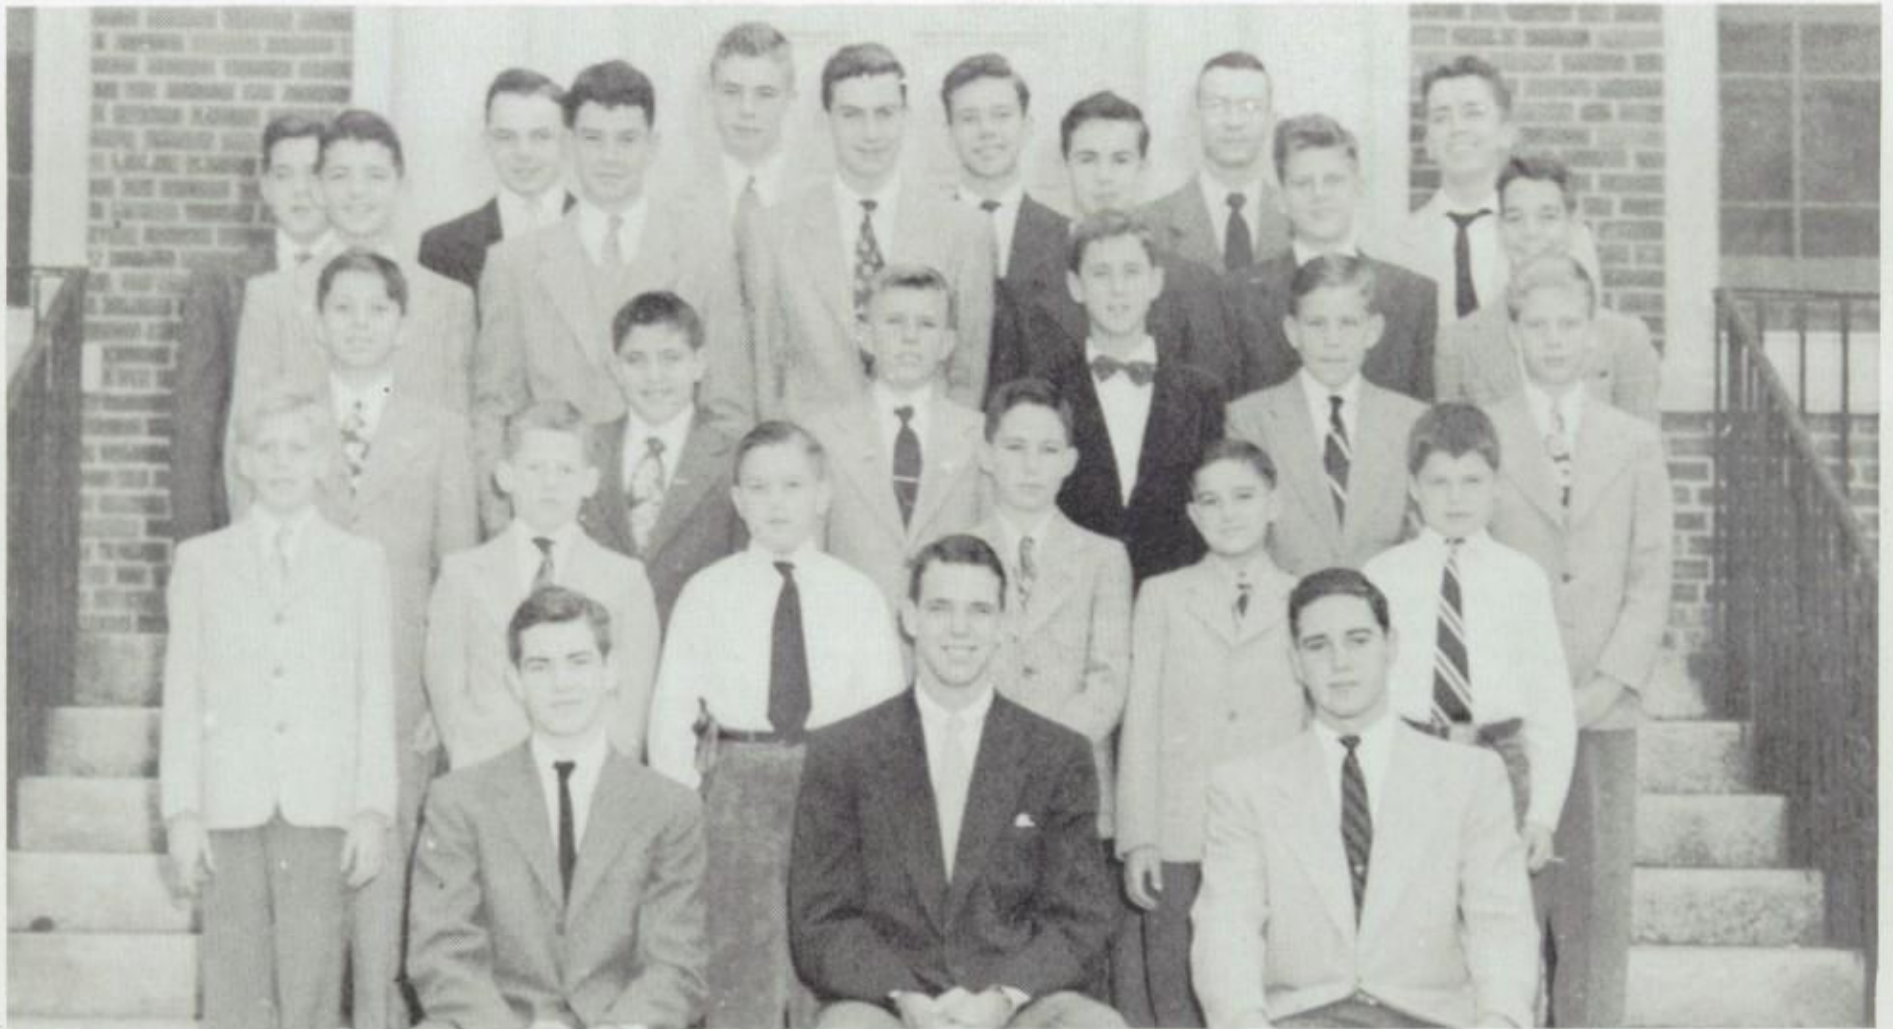

Mr. Cumisky is also in his first year as head baseball coach. He was line coach on the football team. He has seen that all of the prospective players have been thinking of baseball all winter and has already made his plans for a spirited season.

These are our coaches, who have managed to bring the Academy through one of its best athletic years.

Mr. Johnson

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We, the Staff of the ORANGE AND WHITE, feel indebted to various people and organizations for the help we have received in getting out the 1953 ANNUAL. With most of our staff completely inexperienced at the beginning of the year, we feel that we have gained valuable experience in getting an annual to press. In fact, we feel like seasoned editors now. To those who helped to make this annual a success we wish to express our sincere thanks:

To Mr. MacConochie, our faculty advisor, who guided our annual over a sometimes bumpy road to completion and who put up with the many idiosyncrasies and procrastinations of the staff.

To McIntosh Studios who did such an efficient job in taking our formal photographs this year. They have surpassed even their consistently fine performances of past years.

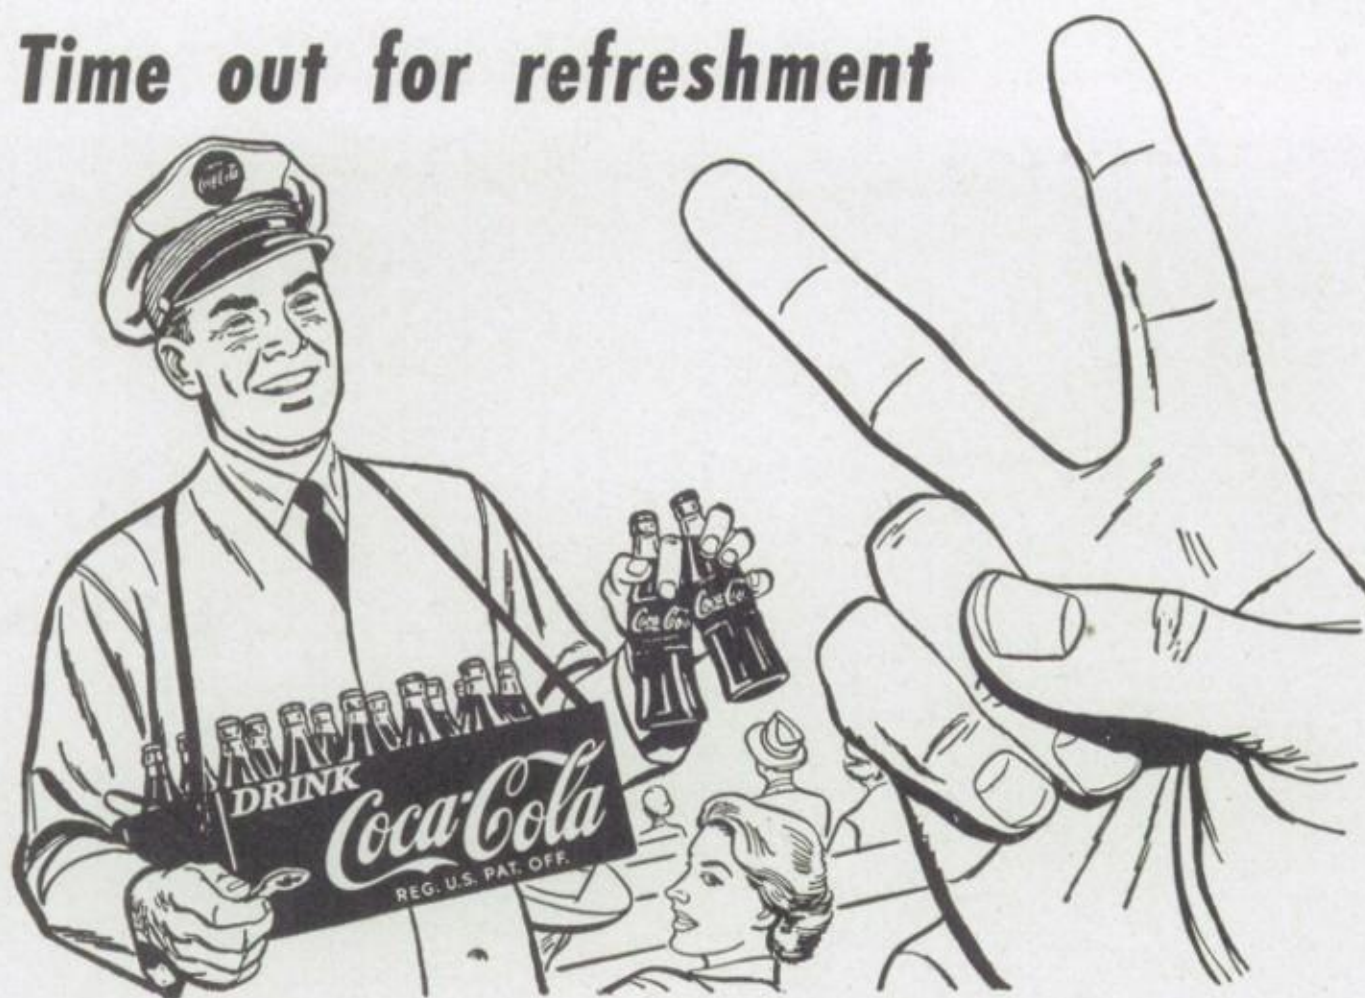

To The American Yearbook Company whose advice and assistance in our new publishing system have been indispensable.

To over one hundred Norfolk business firms whose generous advertising in our book made it financially possible. We hope that our readers will reward this generosity with their patronage.

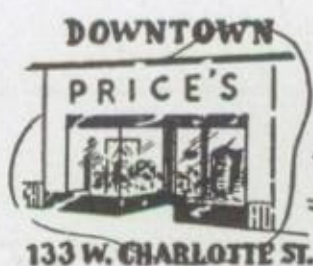

To Tom Mansbach, Ted Wool, and the many others who have solicited ads this year in order to make the year book financially possible.

Time out for refreshment
